Push existing project to another repo on github

- We want to do this when we want to have a history of commits
- We open the terminal and go to the directory
- Type nano .git/config into the terminal
- in the ["remote origin"] change the url manually to the Github url that the repo will be. Then we type ctrl + o to (write out) the file. Followed by CTRL+ X to exit the nano view.